Introduction:

In India, all through the country, the way of life of India are antiquated, dynamic and traversing back to the start of human development. Culture is alluded to examples of thought and conduct of individuals. The people, having a place with all networks, classifications and foundations need to behave in understanding to the standards and values. The people have points and targets to accomplish in their lives. At the point when they still up in the air towards accomplishment of wanted objectives and targets, they should be educational regarding techniques, procedures and approaches. Moreover, they are expected to place into activity the standards, values, ethics, morals, norms and standards. The explanation being, the people are expected to arrangement and work with others. In the well-known speech, the material parts of culture, for example, logical and mechanical accomplishments are seen particular from societies. The different regions that are incorporated are, expressions, music, writing, reasoning, religion and science (Indian Culture, n.d.).

At the point when the people foster interest in at least one of these areas, it is expressed that they are recognizing the importance and meaning of culture. In this manner, culture has contributed essentially in prompting up-degree of generally speaking nature of lives of the people. The Indian history produces data regarding standards, values, societies and customs. The verifiable pioneers have delivered a significant commitment in the protection of societies and customs. There are two kinds of societies, material and non-material. The material societies incorporate, advancements, instruments, material merchandise, shopper merchandise, engineering, plans, models, structures, techniques for creation, exchange, trade, government assistance and other social exercises. While, non-material culture incorporates, standards, values, ethics, morals, norms, standards, and other ceremonial exercises (Mind blowing India, n.d.). Culture is the priceless ownership, everything being equal. Indian culture is the most established of the relative multitude of societies on the planet. At the point when the people recognize the importance and meaning of societies, they can lay out their character inside society. Culture is alluded to the man-made climate, which is moved starting with one age then onto the next. It differs from one spot to another and from one country to another. Culture comprises of the express and understood examples of conduct, which is placed into activity by people in their own as well as expert lives.

Accordingly, it may be expressed, the people are expected to perceive the importance and meaning of culture all through their lives. In India, there are different strict spots, verifiable spots, landmarks, thus forth. These are visited by nationals as well as internationals. At the point when the people make visits to these spots, they produce data with regards to different societies. In the way of life, there are different perspectives that are underscored upon. These are, material antiques, scholarly accomplishments, theory, fortune of information, logical developments and revelations. These are the piece of legacy. In India, the commitments made by Baudhayana, Aryabhata, and Bhaskaracharya in the fields of Maths, Cosmology and Soothsaying; Varahmihir in the field of Material science; Nagarjuna in the field of science; Susruta and Charak in the field of medication and Patanjali in the field of yoga are viewed as significant fortunes of Indian culture legacy. Changes can be achieved in societies, however not legacy. At the point when changes are achieved in societies, it should be guaranteed, they end up being positive for the people, networks and country all in all. The people pay attention to strict messages, peruse strict sacred texts and utilize different understanding materials and web to create data as far as culture, legacy as well as changes occurring in societies.

The novel One day, life will change is simple and explores the traditional Indian culture and its fusion with the modern world. One would like the book is despite having sad/happy/tragic/joyous situations/marriage/divorce/break-up, there is no unnecessary melodrama. The book is a good example of how you can create modern and intelligent characters without having abusive language and stripping the cultural values. Saranya, the author, has successfully created realistic characters. While they have their positives, they have their vulnerabilities too. And, that makes them believable.

One like the way, the chapters are arranged and mainly titled. The first chapter of the book is “The End”, and the last is “The Beginning”. It clearly reflects the flow of the story and how the author has visualized it. At the beginning of each chapter, you will find some interesting lines conveying rather deep meaning. Here are a couple of examples.

When life tosses lemons at you, squeeze them!
God is fed up of hearing your whiny “Why me?”

A candle never fears being lit, nor does it say no to relighting. A beginning is always a new beginning even if it is the second or the third or the fourth.(56)

They are quite philosophical and inspirational. One found the author good at describing the characters and their appearances. For example:

Without thinking, she had chosen a black dress that day. Except for the small gold hoops on her ears and a wristwatch, she had left all her jewellery behind, as they were not hers. Beads of sweat dotted her forehead.

At the same time, she is good at writing interesting one-liners.

A wave of loneliness enveloped her as she walked in(116).

What really matters is what you think about you. Here is an example of how beautifully the emotions are explored in the book.

What an amazing way to sensitively explore emotions in a poetic yet realistic way. As far one’s opinion is concerned one found almost all the characters are given proper weightage and exploration. For example, the following line clearly explores Vivian’s vision and his company’s motto as:

“Creative Tanks is not a place for losers; this is the place for fighters – either we swim or sink!” blasted Vivian.

We don’t want submissive people here. We want people to speak up even if their superior is wrong.

While he is hard-working, he is not arrogant. He also lands the hand of support to his team and the people he care for.

Above mentioned quotes must have given you a fair idea of the quality of writing you can expect in the book. If I had to quote only one block of lines from it, I will definitely choose the following:

“And why only me?”

Had God counted the number of times humans had asked him this question, it would have effortlessly surpassed the biggest number on Earth – googolplex!(93)

So, well-developed characters and storyline are the positives of the book. You may find it a little lengthy. Especially, if you are reading most of the modern love-stories. Some of the things look fantasy-stuff, but hope is the fuel of life, and we all believe in some kind of hopeful future, no matter how unrealistic it looks. While the book misses the traditional index page and detailed author's note, it contains footnotes, especially in the first half of the book. Definitely a good read if you have a traditional yet modern mindset. The absence of adulteries and cusswords makes it a worthy choice.

With headways occurring and with the appearance of modernization and globalization, the people in metropolitan networks are carrying on with present day lives. They are making use of present day, logical and imaginative techniques inside the course of execution of occupation obligations in both individual and expert lives. They are utilizing different kinds of advances inside the course of execution of occupation obligations. The web is viewed as one of the main source that is contributing essentially in creating data with regards to different regions, subjects and ideas. Moreover, the arrangement of training is in an advanced state. The people get great quality training and are taken part in different positions or start their own organizations of different items or administrations. The metropolitan people are zeroing in on up-degree of their abilities and capacities to accomplish the ideal objectives and achieve enhancements in their general nature of lives. The manners in which that are placed into activity by the metropolitan people to carry on with their lives are impacted by societies. Accordingly, it very well may be expressed, Indian culture and legacy is recognized in metropolitan networks.

The characters developed by the author has a strong impact on the readers. One liked Vivian's character the most. The way the author expressed the emotions is admirable. It takes a lot when you miss everything and stand up again, for yourself. And having a person who will be there to support every time we fall, and push us to achieve our dreams once again. Vivian is the person every young girl wishes to have in her life. One liked the second half of the story. The way the author described the events is commendable. A smooth paced story with easy language and intriguing writing style, this book will be loved by young readers. It's a book filled with lots of drama.

People can't carry on with their lives in separation. Inside the course of execution of occupation obligations in both individual and expert circles, they need to work in joint effort and mix with one another. The people need to guarantee, they trade thoughts and perspectives, expand data regarding different viewpoints and give answers for different kinds of issues in a compelling way. Thus, it is of most extreme importance for the people to build up a feeling of congruity. Inside homes, instructive foundations of all levels and in different sorts of work settings, the feeling of amicability would empower the people to frame friendly terms and associations with one another and create the ideal results. From the phase of youth over the lifetimes of the people, they are expected to acquire a productive comprehension of importance and meaning of feeling of agreement. Moreover, people need to guarantee, their activities and deeds ought to end up being good to themselves and their families, however to the networks overall. Hence, feeling of concordance is a trait of culture, which should be recognized by the people, independent of their occupations, networks, classes and financial foundations.

The people, having a place with all networks, classifications and foundations have points and targets to accomplish in their lives. At the point when they not entirely settled towards accomplishment of wanted objectives and targets, they should be enlightening regarding methods, strategies and approaches. Besides, they need to foster inspiration towards the execution of occupation obligations. One of the significant focuses that should be considered is, the people are expected to shape positive perspectives regarding position obligations and obligations. At the end of the day, accentuation should be placed working. People are expected to shape the perspective that acting in understanding to the standards and values would end up being worthwhile to them to a significant degree. The people have points and objectives to accomplish in their lives, in both individual and expert circles. At the point when they not entirely set in stone towards taking care of well in their responsibilities and accomplishment of wanted goals and targets, they should really try to understand that putting accentuation on the job will be great and useful on a thorough premise. As a result, people will actually want to support societies. In this manner, it is surely known, accentuation working is a significant quality of culture.

The book revolves around two people, one is Samaira, a girl filled with emotions and feelings. She is fair, slim and the dimples in her cheeks charmed everyone. Her jolly and charming personality made her beautiful in every term. But barely after a week after the wedding, everything changed on bad terms. Her husband, Ashish, was the prince of her dreams but who was knowing that everything will be changed so badly. After her honeymoon, she saw the other side of Ashish who not just forced her to quit the IT profession but also mocked her talent i.e singing. Her mother-in-law used to criticize and mock her all the time. One day she finally decided to get a divorce and end this marriage right away. Suddenly after the divorce, there was another tragedy that happened with her and it was the death of her parents and brother. Meanwhile, society started blaming her for all this. After facing so many problems, she was left with no reason to live and was completely moved by everything from within. Suddenly life took a turn and here comes the second important character of the story i.e. Vivian, a successful businessman with very huge fame. He is a very positive, gentle determined, and hardworking entrepreneur. First, meet with Samaira made him fall for her. Without knowing anything about her, Vivian started feeling so much for Samaira, and on the other hand, Samaira kept his bond with Vivian just till work. She has already faced so much by falling in love, this time she does not want to get back to that phase again. One fine morning, Samaira got to know about the past Vivian and this made her in shock.

The author has written the whole story in a good manner. Characters are very well portrayed. The narration and writing style are quite good. The language used is simple and easy to read. The cover is beautiful. Overall the book resumes the real life events beautifully.

One day, life will change is a sweet and inspiring story about two characters that are complete antithesis and genuinely unique in their own way. Samaira and Vivian, two leads of the story find their life dreams going through the difficult time. Samaira the principle protagonist of the plot lost everything in her own home, guardians and a wedded life as well.

Life was so brutal for her when she got hitched to the man. Her cheerful marriage dream was broken when she came to think about that her significant other is so barbarous to her. And she has a secondary status in her house. The patriarchal power constraints her to murder her fantasies and to bolted between the four dividers of the house. After losing everything and every single to live when she was fully scattered and broken into pieces from out, right that moment Vivian crossed her path. Vivian second most important character of this book.

Vivian was one of the most successful businessman and entrepreneur and the kingpin of the company's creative tank. He was ambitious, determined and he was that type of man that every girl dreams of. His handsome look, sharp business sense, achieving will, gentle and caring nature. Vivian had fallen head over hill for samaira on their first meeting, and it was certainly love at first sight from his side. Kismet brought them together when Samaria joined CT in ideas Dept. Of marketing. In maliciousness of being in boss- employee relationship, there was historic depper adherence between them. Hence begins and engaging passage for both, from the end to new get- goes. They chase broken dreams against all odd, inspiring one another. As they walk that exacting path of life, will they climb the hierarchy of success together? Or will they crash and born?. Language is simple and easy to understand.

Overall a good book with simple narration and interesting plot. Looking for a light read? Go for it. Recommended for young readers who love reading a filmy love story.

The book opens with the chapter “ The end” which made me feel this could be an intriguing pick. The story revolves around, after losing everything she holds dear... her love, her parents, and even her singing, Samaira is dejected. She is at her lowest point in life and has no idea what she wants. The initial chapter deals with how Samaira was demoralized in her in-laws' house, she then divorces and begins a new life. The protagonist was shown in a bright light making her a strong character. The narration is also done well, there are places that have been elaborated extensively and some places could have been neater. But, undoubtedly, it was a good coffee table book to read on a rainy afternoon.

Conclusion:

In India, all through the nation in all states and locales, the way of life of India are antiquated, dynamic and spreading over back to the start of human development. Culture is alluded to examples of thought and conduct of individuals. The people, having a place with all networks, classes and foundations are expected to act in understanding to the ethics, morals, standards and values. Indian culture and legacy is recognized all through the country in all networks. Qualities of Indian culture are, an enormous vision, feeling of concordance, receptivity, resilience, progression and soundness, versatility, profound quality and morals, ingenuity and reliability, accentuation on the job and the joint family framework. Factors expected in prompting support of Indian culture and legacy are, being knowledgeable regarding position obligations and obligations; speaking with others in a successful way; portraying the attributes of genuineness and honesty; investing amounts of energy to one's best capacities and carrying out measures to prompt up-degree of one's general nature of lives. At long last, it very well may be expressed, age of data as far as Indian culture and legacy have delivered a significant commitment in achieving enhancements in their general nature of lives. Upon closer inspection, the title gives the vibes of a spiritual motivational book. However, the blurb gives away to a romantic book. However, after reading it becomes obvious that it's a combination of all the characteristics mentioned above. Language is beautiful accompanied by a nice narration. The way it has been presented to us with an effective command over vocabulary in the form of a gentle storytelling nudges us to finish it without much consternation. The most important and yet interesting aspect which one liked about this novel is the usage of short anecdotes at the beginning to each chapter. It gives a good feeling overall while indulging into the context. The characters of the novel are really nice, light, & mood-refreshing read, perfect for weekends. This research focuses the self discovery of the protagonist and the responded of her senses in the real life. She and he do not bother about the society and enjoy their life.
